

Institute for Social and Development Studies

Kaulbachstraße 31a
80539 München

Phone +49 (0)89 23 86-23 55
E-Mail christina.buechl@hfph.de marion.einsiedler@hfph.de

How can value development succeed?

The project

The project is being conducted to further understand in which ways refugee's values formation can be developed to make a positive contribution, while living together in a diverse society.

It is supported by the Bavarian State Ministry of Labor and Social Affairs, Family and Integration.

If you have questions please don't hesitate to ask.

We need your support!

For a research project concerning the question of how value formation can succeed, we are looking for people who are willing to participate in an interview between April and July 2017.

You ...

- ... are at least 21 years old?
- ... are living in Germany, specifically in Bavaria (for 2 years, maximum)?
- ... are from Syria, Afghanistan, Somalia or Eritrea?
- ... want to tell us about your experiences?
- ... have attended some kind of course, seminar, training session or workshop in Germany?

If you fulfill these requirements, you can contact our project team below:

E-Mail:

christina.buechl@hfph.de
marion.einsiedler@hfph.de

Phone:

+49 (0)89 23 86-23 55

When?

Between April and July 2017. Appointments will be made to your convenience.

Where?

You can choose the location that works best for you. Also you can come on your own or accompanied by somebody.

How long?

One hour, maximum.

Why?

You will help to improve courses and other offerings for refugees living in Germany. Also you will get an invitation for the project's workshop and a brochure with the most relevant results of the project.

We are looking forward to hear from you!

Please note:

The conversation will take place in a safe space. It is only used for research. For this reason it will be recorded. All data will be anonymized and no third parties will have access to the information.